

Jane Chute

Hi everyone! I was born, raised, and educated in Atlanta, Georgia, where I began my higher education as a Georgia Bulldog (University of Georgia), and finished at the University of North Texas many years later. During that time I married, raised three children, and played lots of tennis. We've lived in Plano for 25 years. I began my special education teaching career right here at Bethany, where I've happily taught (and learned) for eleven years, and where I now help lead the Special Ed team. My husband, Michael, a former elementary school teacher currently works in the tile industry. We have two little grandsons: Sam (8 years old) and Charlie (10 months). We delight in having them spend the night with us whenever possible, especially in the summertime, when there's plenty of time for swimming, long talks, and just hangin' with Mammy and Michael. I love teaching reading, language arts, and math.
