

Grace Son grew up in Arlington, TX and graduated from Martin High School where she found her passion for orchestra and teaching. As the concertmistress, she participated in All-Region and All-State orchestras and regularly assisted her teacher by leading sectionals. She went on to Southern Methodist University and received her Bachelor's in Music Education. In her first year of teaching, she was the head orchestra director of Lake Highlands Junior High in Richardson ISD and now is the assistant director at Bowman Middle School and Williams High School.

In addition to her teaching career in the public schools, she maintains a private studio of eight years. She is also the director of contemporary music at Good Shepherd Presbyterian Church and continues to freelance as a violinist. She is an active member of Texas Music Educator's Association and enjoys watching her students musically grow and mature as she continues to develop her skills as an orchestra teacher.
